Charged with Assault.

Last evening S. G. Bradford and his wife were before Squire Gillespie charged by Fritz Frank with assault and confounding with loud and angry words. He plead that he had already plead guilty in Squire Peterman's court and paid a fine of $5 and costs. Squire Gillespie took the cases under advisement until today.

A Child Fatally Burned.
The four-year-old daughter of Lincoln Smith, of West Liberty, was playing in the house Tuesday evening while her mother had gone to the spring for water. The child's clothes caught fire from the grate, and before the mother could reach the child she was badly burned, and died that night. The mother was severely burned in her efforts to extinguish the flames.

John W. Cummins Dead.
John W. Cummins, formerly for many years superintendent of the city water works, died at his home at 124 Fourteenth street last evening, aged nearly seventy-eight years. He had been sick for some time with kidney trouble, and for several days past his death was seen to be merely a question of time. He was much respected, and his family has general and sincere sympathy in this bereavement.

In the Criminal Court.
In the criminal court yesterday the docket was called and the cases set. J. M. Ross plead guilty to the charge of beating the Hotel Windsor out of a board bill and was given thirty days in jail. Lucy Robinson was arraigned for felonious assault on Dr. B. H. Stillyard, and it appeared that she did not understand the situation. J. B. Wilson was assigned to defend her. He entered a plea of not guilty, and the case was set for trial.

Licensed to Wed.
Clerk Hook yesterday issued marriage licenses to the following named parties:
Christian Backer, a widower, aged 56, and Mary Catherine Korangeable, aged 47, both of Wheeling.
William H. Jenkins, aged 20, and Kate M. Bohl, aged 18, both of Wheeling.
John Miller, aged 22, and Mary Skeie, aged 20, both of Wheeling.
Joseph Wagner, aged 21, of Germany, Pa., and Ida B. Biggard, aged 19, of Washington county, Pa.

The Outlook for the Farmers.
William M. Dunlop, esq., of the eastern end of the county, reports the winter wheat outlook as excellent, and says the farmers are not feeling the hard times as much as city people. They are getting $10 for their hay in the meadows, 50 cents for corn and 32 to 35 cents for oats, 55 cents for wheat and 4 1/2 to 5 cents for hogs. Wool is still away down and sheep that sold high three years ago can be bought for 50 cents per head. He is of the opinion that West Virginia growers will have to go into heavy mutton sheep, as raising sheep for wool alone will no longer yield satisfactory returns.

The Schmutzbach Stables.
Leiner & Paris, the architects, are preparing plans for the new stable building to replace the fine structure recently burned at the Schmutzbach Brewing Company's place on the South Side. The old building was said to be the finest stable in the state, and the new one will if anything eclipse the old from every point of view. From an architectural point of view the new structure will be a beauty, also in construction; it will be built entirely of pressed brick with stone trimmings. The same firm also have commission to draw plans for other buildings for the Schmutzbach company, and work on all of them will be started as soon as spring opens up.

Mr. Mason's Experience.
Fred M. Mason, former society editor of the Register, writes from his home at Biddeford, Me., narrating a rather exciting experience he had lately. While traveling for a Boston house in Connecticut he was arrested on a charge of setting fire to thirteen different buildings in four different towns within forty-eight hours. It turned out to be a case of mistaken identity, and after forty-eight hours' imprisonment he was released. An exaggerated story of the affair had reached here, but those who knew Mr. Mason did not believe it. They knew if he went into the fire bug business he would have too good taste to begin on the unlucky number 13.

He Said he was Single.
There was a somewhat sensational occurrence at the Tenth street office of the Wheeling Railway Company last night about 10 o'clock. It seems that one of the operators employed on the road, named Slater, who has a family living in North Wheeling, has been paying assiduous attentions to a young lady of respectable family who lives in Zinnaville, near the steel bridge. To this family he represented himself as a single man, and denied that he was married. The father got the information that Slater has been deceiving him and his daughter. With the girl, the mother and several other members of the family, he came over to town last night with "blood in his eye," as an eye-witness of the affair says. The family called at the Tenth street office and wanted the clerks to telephone for Slater. This they would not do, and the Zinnaville man was compelled finally to leave without getting any satisfaction. The end of the affair is not yet.

NOW FOR THE "BIG 6."

The Five Preceding Portfolios Said to be Eclipsed.

A SUPERB FINE ART ISSUE,

Containing Sixteen Choice Gems of the Exposition—Part 3 of Sights and Scenes Will Also be Ready.

Art Portfolio No. 6, which will be ready for distribution to-morrow morning, is acknowledged by the few who have inspected it to be finer and more attractive than any which have gone before.

The subjects heretofore chosen have been varied in character and have covered many subjects.

No. 6 is a novelty in a way, since it is devoted entirely to fine art.

It comprises sixteen of the choicest selections from the Art Palace, including a superb photographic reproduction of the building itself.

Sculpture and painting have contributed about equally, and this portfolio alone is worth many times the cost of the entire series.

It is a fitting supplement and crown to the first five portfolios which have thus far been issued.

It contains a view of the exterior of the art palace; the tomb of De Breze; gallery 57, art palace; famous sculpture from the Cathedral of Notre Dame; the court of France sculpture; the portal of the church of St. Giles; the gallery of the Cathedral of Limoges; "On Board the Yacht Namoura," by J. L. Stewart; "Young Girls Going to a Procession," by Jules Breton; "The Overthrow," by Rosa Bonheur; "The Cossack's Answer," owned by the emperor of Russia; gallery from the Cathedral at Bordeaux; "Throwing the First Stone," a rare specimen of Biblical sculpture; "The Tomb of the Children of Charles VIII., of France," and "Cupid and Psyche."

Part 3 of Sights and Scenes of the World will be ready for delivery to-morrow. No one should lose this opportunity of securing these beautiful pictures. More, they are of great educational value. With each picture a complete history of it is given, so when you have secured the 320 pictures you have a valuable illustrated history of famous places and scenes of the world.

In Olden Times
People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.
